

MAGNIFICENT GRAY WHALES AND STUNNING DESERT
QUADRUPLE WHALE WATCHING SAFARI
With Orange Coast College

Surrounded by a natural aquarium, the rugged magical landscape of Baja California Peninsula is home to vast deserts rich in vegetation, pristine beaches, jagged mountains, an array of shore birds and isolated villages. Of special attraction are the gray whales. Each year, gray whales travel thousands of miles from the Arctic Ocean to the warm waters of Baja California lagoons, designated as wildlife refuges, to court, mate, give birth and care for their young. Join the unique, unforgettable experience to view these giant mammals at arm's length, some may let themselves be petted!

Whale behaviors at the lagoons change as the season unfolds. Beginning in mid-January, whales arrive to give birth to their young outside the viewing areas. At this time, whales can be observed in the spectacular behavior of courting and mating. In February the lagoons reach the highest number of whales, up to 2,000 at one time! Spouts are visible at all times, mating still occurs and mothers with newborn calves begin to enter the observation areas. In March, as bulls and newly-pregnant whales depart, mother and baby pairs dominate the lagoons. Towards the end of the season, calves gain size and weight and mothers become less protective, offering a greater opportunity for close encounters. Whales remain in the lagoons up to mid April.

ITINERARY

DAY 1. Costa Mesa – Ensenada - San Quintin

ACROSS THE BORDER

Board the motor coach at a designated site in OCC. Meet your Group Leader and fellow travelers and depart for Mexico. Cross the border, enjoy a Mexican pan dulce and coffee and begin the road south along Highway One, the guideline to the peninsula. The scenic portion to Ensenada along the Pacific Ocean offers breathtaking views. A melting pot of adventurers seeking fortunes in nearby mines established the city of Ensenada on the shores of beautiful Todos Santos Bay. Today it is a pleasant city offering a Mediterranean climate, friendly people and a historical ambiance. Stop for lunch and continue to San Vicente to visit a small Community Museum. Cross one of the peninsula's most important agricultural areas to reach San Quintin. The hotel for the night fronts a wide-open beach.

Hotel Mision Santa Maria, San Quintin.

DAY 2. San Quintin- Guerrero Negro

THE MAGNIFICENT DESERT

The day is dedicated to admiring the wonders of the desert. The mountainous peninsula is covered by innumerable species of flora, many of which are endemic. A large part of the drive crosses Reserva Valle de los Cirios (Valley of the Boojum Tree Reserve) established mainly to protect the unique tree, Baja's signature plant. Stops are made for nature walks, including a visit to a small cave with simple rock art. Lunch is in stunning Cataviña. At Parallel 28, the state of Baja California Sur begins with the city of Guerrero Negro, home of the largest salt plant in the world and one of the gray whale sanctuaries.

DAY 3. Guerrero Negro - Scammon's (Ojo de Liebre) Lagoon - San Ignacio.

BAJA'S BIRDS & WHALES UP CLOSE

Begin the day visiting a natural reserve in an enormous salt marsh where birds migrate from Russia, Canada, and other latitudes. Begin the Gray Whale experience in Scammon's Lagoon Sanctuary. Drive through La Exportadora de Sal, one of the largest salt plants in the world and learn about its activities. At the lagoon, board pangas (small boats) for a FIRST memorable encounter with the whales. Continue south to San Ignacio, a charming town that developed around its imposing 18th century mission, still in use today, in the midst of a lush, tranquil oasis. Visit the church and enjoy the relaxed life of the town around its tree-filled zocalo. Perhaps local school children will present a lively folk dancing performance for your evening entertainment.

DAY 4. San Ignacio - Laguna de San Ignacio - San Ignacio

GRAY WHALES CONTINUED

After breakfast, board special vehicles for the drive partly on graded road to reach the secluded Bahia de San Ignacio Lagoon. Experience TWO adventuresome rides among whales, one before and the second after lunch. Migrating birds can be spotted along the shore. Back in San Ignacio, enjoy a relaxed evening getting into the small-town atmosphere and its slow pace of life. Visit the mission and join the local people on the plaza.

DAY 5. San Ignacio- Scammon's (Ojo de Liebre) Lagoon - Cataviña

ADIOS TO THE WHALES / DESERT GARDEN

The journey back north begins. First stop returns to Guerrero Negro for a FOURTH excursion among whales in Scammon's Lagoon. Stops are made along the return drive to Cataviña to admire the large variety of dense desert vegetation. Located in the midst of the Central Desert, a combination of sun, sand, gigantic granite boulders, and amusing combinations of boojums, cardons and elephant trees make Cataviña a superb "desert garden". Due to this setting, nights in the tiny village of Cataviña are memorable. Dinner at the hotel consists of a variety of finger food.

DAY 6. Cataviña – Costa Mesa

FAREWELL TO BAJA

Before breakfast, join an unforgettable walk to see the rising sun shining through the "pricklies" of the magnificent "desert garden". Leave the desert behind and stop for lunch in a San Quintín restaurant to taste traditional platters. A second brief stop is on Ensenada's main street for quick shopping or to rest in a café. Drive the final stretch along the beautiful coastal highway, back across the border and into Costa Mesa.
