ALEXANDER MCDUGAL MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Alex McDougal graduated from OCC with honors and continued his education at the University of California at Riverside where he earned a bachelor's in psychology. Always interested in helping others, Alex returned to OCC as a peer counselor in the Disabled Student Center.

Utilizing understanding and sensitivity gained from his personal experience with Muscular Dystrophy, he encouraged many other disabled students to achieve their educational goals. This award is available to disabled students on the basis of scholarship and financial need.

ALICE HAAG MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

This scholarship was established by family and friends in honor of Alice E. Haag, who was a foremost leading light of the OCC Technology Division. Our recollections of Alice are: thoughtfulness, helpful to the "Nth" degree, preparedness, sympathetic to everyone else's problems but never public with her own, and the last, but definitely the best, "class"—she exuded class! We will miss her terribly, but we know that everything that she touched during her lifetime will be better for it.

The purpose of the scholarship is to assist students pursuing a career in the technological areas such as electronic engineering, computers, design, mathematics, machining, welding, and aircraft services, all of which are a part of the rapidly advancing and lucrative field of technology today.

ALPHA BETA GAMMA MAXWELL SCHOLARSHIP

Alpha Beta Gamma is committed to cultivating well-versed, ambitious and socially responsible business students into a proactive apparatus. Contribution is our measurement of success. We take pride in our contributions toward our community, school and members. Our members are integral elements of this success; an honor society is made honorable by the students comprised within it, not by the "honor" title.

The Maxwell Scholarship was named after the 2012-1013 President Maxwell Pedroza, who sought to align the incentive of the members with the incentive of the honor society as a whole. Personal growth is crucial for our members as it interchangeably causes progression for the individual and for Alpha Beta Gamma. The scholarship is a $500 all community college students still have unmet financial need after all financial aid is considered. Every day, California community college students are forced to abandon their education because of financial hardships. The Osher Endowment scholarships address this growing need at Orange Coast and California's 109 other community colleges.

The Scholarships of at least $1,000 per academic year will help financially strained students offset costs, making it possible for them to stay in school with scholarships that help with textbooks, equipment, uniforms, and other instructional supplies.

PARKER HANNIFIN SCHOLARSHIP

PAT PATTERSON MEMORIAL FUND

PATRICK J. LIPOT MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Patrick Joseph Lipot, Masters in Special Education
March 23, 1958-December 28, 1997

Patrick died suddenly of undiagnosed Acute Promylecytic Leukemia. He entered the hospital on Saturday, December 27th with flu like symptoms and died the next morning at 3:15 a.m. He was 39 years old.

In his life Patrick valued many things. He cherished being a husband to Teresa and a daddy to Zachary and Samuel. Many who knew us would comment on what an involved parent he was. He had a devoted Catholic faith, service his Lord with his many talents including youth work, drama, and music. The last song Patrick wrote was a song called "Falling Into the Hands of the Living God," for a Catholic Men's Fellowship Conference. Patrick loved education and prided himself in developing creative ways to motivate his students at Wadsworth Avenue School in South Central Los Angeles. He was proud of his achievements, having earned his Masters Degree in special Education at Cal State Dominguez Hills, the May before his death. He loved Literature and had earned a Bachelors Degree from CSULB after attending OCC for his early coursework. Patrick was a prolific writer and we are blessed to have boxes of original songs and poems he wrote. Patrick spent his high school years at Fountain Valley, participating in both the band and football. His television debut was at the age of nine when he went on Art Linkletter's, "Kids Say the Darndest Things" Show. It was during this time the he began developing his interest in music eventually learning to play the clarinet, flute, sax and piano.

The years Zack and Sammy spent at OCC's Lab School was a time of joy for the four of us. Patrick would bring his flutes into the boys classrooms to share with the children, while our boys would beam with pride. Patrick's Christmas cookies, the infamous Rum Logs, better know as "Lum Rogs" were cautiously enjoyed by all the staff.

Patrick had a gentle spirit about him that others would frequently comment on. He survived the loss of a sister when he was ten and his father when he was 26, and despite these losses went on to find joy and meaning in his life. He is tenderly missed by all of his family and friends.

My Daddy

My Daddy was a good music man. I didn't want him to die. I was sad.

It was hard for me, but I made it through. And I'm still sad but I still love him. And I still wish that he was alive still but that doesn't mean that he can come back. Everyone has to die though. But the best part about dying is you get as many treats as you want in heaven. And I'm not afraid to die because my daddy is up there.

And when I die my kids will grow up and have kids.

By Zachary Lipot, Age Seven, Grade One, spring 1999

PHI ALPHA MU: SOCIAL & BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES HONOR

SOCIE Phi Alpha Mu was created in the spring of 1957 by the OCC Social & Behavioral Science Division faculty. It grew from a desire to recognize, honor, and encourage outstanding student achievement in OCC Social & Behavioral Science Division courses. The name was derived from Thucydides who, in reporting the Funeral Oration of Pericles, described the Athenians as searching for "wisdom without loss of strength." From the classes with informed instructors to facilities that allow hands-on application, OCC's Horticulture Department excels in preparing students of all ages and of all backgrounds for futures in the horticulture industry or simply a life of enjoying producing food and beauty from the earth. The poinsettia program, in particular, led to a tradition of family portraits, greenhouse tours, property picnics and a purpose to the holiday season.

It is our hope that the dedication of Rollande to the incredible poinsettia program and the overall department will continue in the winner of this scholarship as he/she sees the seed that sprouts through OCC Horticulture and determines to give back by volunteering annually at the poinsettia sale to raise money for the ongoing success of the program and department.

RON REINHOLDT MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

A commemorative scholarship honoring the life of R.C. Reinholdt, professor of German and English at OCC between 1971 and 1993. His service to education and his wit and love of his students were well known by all who came in contact with him. His contribution to the college and to the Scholarship Committee for 22 years have made a significant difference for over 10,000 students. Ron would be proud to be remembered by recognizing outstanding students.

RONALD SCHRYER MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Ron Schryer was a teacher's teacher. In his memory, Ron's family and friends have established this scholarship to assist a deserving student who, we believe, will exemplify the standards that he set for himself.

As one of OCC's earliest students, he went on to a distinguished teaching career that concluded with 18 years back at OCC. During his long career, he taught at every level from elementary school to graduate education. Even in retirement he remained active in his efforts to make Coast a better place for students.

Ron understood the importance of all three pillars of excellence in the profession. First, he was a master in the classroom, giving unlimited energy to insuring that his students would be successful. He was a true innovator, among the earliest at OCC to experiment with modern student-centered instruction as far as 40 years ago. Second, he understood the importance of learning acquired through co-curricular activities and fully supported a wide variety of activities from music and theater to athletics to student government programs. Third, he embraced professional involvement beyond the classroom. He was a founding member of the Trabuco Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa; a founding board member of the OCC Emeritus Institute; and a frequent participant and presenter at professional conferences at the local, state and national levels. He was part of the team that wrote the most widely used K-12 math series ever published.

Beyond all that, Ron was a man of character and leadership, a man whose word was his bond, and who would have done anything to help a student, colleague, friend or family member. This was clear, even in his last days, as former students and friends came to visit and say goodbye. He will be missed.

ROUNDTABLE FOR FOOD PROFESSIONALS

ROY AND HARRIET ZHE MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Roy and Harriet were born and raised in rural Wisconsin and knew each other from childhood. They started dating in the middle of the Great Depression but they stayed hopeful. They married when the world was at war but maintained their faith in a better life. They believed in hard work, fair play and helping others.

Both developed disabilities at a young age. At age six Roy contracted polio leaving his left arm paralyzed; tough on a farm but he made it work. He always said he could milk cows one handed with the best of them. A few years after contracting polio he climbed the windmill on the family farm. He was just not sure how to get down. With his mom crying at the base of the windmill and his dad directing, Roy made it safely down to a hug from his mom and a stern lecture from his dad though both were proud of their son's perseverance.

Harriet developed diabetes at the age of fifteen and used insulin daily from that time forward. She did not let that limit her even with subsequent medical complications. When they moved to California during the war they went to work in the shipyards, Harriet in the supply control booth and Roy as a welder. For a short time after the war they owned a small grocery store with another couple. Harriet had just served a Japanese-American couple when a customer complained to her about serving Japanese. Harriet calmly said, "Their money is just as green as anyone else and if that is a problem you can always shop elsewhere."

Roy later worked helping people find jobs and then managing those programs. He took up golf later in life and scored a hole-in-one in his 60's. Harriet worked as a transcriber and later a legal secretary. Harriet passed away in 1980. Roy passed in 2001. They had one son and two grandchildren. This scholarship is award to a student with a disability who demonstrates hard work, fair play and the desire to help others.

SANTA ANA ARMY AIR BASE SCHOLARSHIP

Before there was Orange Coast College, there was the Santa Ana Army Air Base. This training facility was established in 1942 for preflight instruction of pilots, navigators and bombardiers that served in the Army Air Corps/Forces during World War II. The land area of SAAAB encompassed 1,336 acres, including the future sites of Orange Coast College, Costa Mesa Civic Center, Vanguard University and the Orange County Fairgrounds. Between 1942 and 1946, the Santa Ana Army Air Base trained nearly 150,000 military personnel. It also served as a redistribution center for over 72,000 combat veterans returning from the war. After SAAAB was decommissioned, local voters supported the effort to create Orange Coast College on 243 acres that were granted by the War Assets Administration. Since OCC's inception in 1947, it has grown to become one of the premier community colleges in the nation. This scholarship is dedicated to the memory of Joseph H. & Fay L. SHERRY GRISWOLD MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP Sherwood "Tom" Griswold, called "Sherry" by all who knew him, was the oldest son of Donald G. and Lillian Griswold. He came to California with his parents in 1928. Here his childhood was spent happily with his brother and three sisters, and from here he enlisted in the Army Air Corp on December 26, 1943. One year later to the day, on his second combat mission, the B-17 Flying Fortress in which he served as an aerial gunner, was shot down over Bleshamer, Germany, and all except two crew members perished.

Sherry did not go to war because he loved to fight; he loathed fighting. He went as a duty to mankind, as the honorable thing to do, standing squarely for what he considered the highest expression of right, not counting the cost. He loved peace, but he loved justice more.

The gift of an endowed scholarship in Sherry's name is provided by the trustees of the Sherry Griswold Foundation in the hope that its influence will always be effectively expanding his love of peace and goodwill to mankind.

Anyone who played for a Picken's team knew they were a winner. He taught respect for authority, unselfish team play, and a desire to play with everything you had to give. "There's no shame in losing," he once said, "only in pulling up short of your personal best." In all he did, Pick symbolized this strength of purpose and love of a sport.
